

Your Region, Your Voice: Join the NC Economic Development Listening Series

Authored & Produced: Barbara Steele · Published August 2025

North Carolina is developing its 2026 Comprehensive Strategic Economic Development Plan to guide growth through 2030 — and every region deserves a seat at the table in shaping it.

ncIMPACT partnered with the NC Department of Commerce to host listening sessions across all eight of the state's Prosperity Zones, inviting local government leaders, economic and workforce development professionals, business owners, and community members to share regional strengths, challenges, and priorities. Findings from the sessions, paired with economic analysis from Commerce's Labor and Economic Analysis Division, will directly inform the plan's priorities and recommendations.

EIGHT REGIONAL SESSIONS, PLUS ONE VIRTUAL

- | | |
|---|--|
| 1 Durham
Central Pines Regional Council · Aug 27 | 2 Kernersville
Piedmont Triad Regional Council · Aug 28 |
| 3 Charlotte
Sept 8 | 4 Pembroke
Sept 12 |
| 5 Sylva
Sept 18 | 6 Lenoir
Sept 19 |
| 7 Edenton
Sept 23 | 8 Jacksonville
Sept 24 |

Plus a statewide virtual session on September 30 for anyone unable to attend in person.

Built around a clear call to action — register, attend, and amplify — the post was designed to drive measurable registration across every corner of the state, not just generate awareness.